CASAS POLICY REGARDING PUBLISHED AUTHORS

The following points relate to CASAS' publications and authors:

1. All manuscripts received and considered for publication are peer-reviewed.
2. Since the Centre is a not-for-profit NGO, it is not permitted by law to pay any royalties. The proceeds of sales of publications may only be recycled into the general running and production of CASAS.
3. CASAS pays a once-off honorarium for commissioned work/manuscripts.
4. Authors hold copyright for their work.
5. CASAS in principle does only one print-run. Sales from such print-runs are intended to defray production and administrative costs only.
6. Any subsequent print runs need to be approved by the author.
7. After the first print-run the author is free to do subsequent prints elsewhere.
8. CASAS may under special circumstances agree to undertake the publication of a manuscript/book which is completely funded by the author or a sponsor. In such instances, CASAS lays claim only to a fee for administrative costs.
